

YANKS DRIVE ON NANTES, ST. NAZAIRE

STRIKER BANDS
ACT TO BLOCK
RAIL SERVICE

Violence Threatened as Army Seizes Philadelphia Transportation System.

By The Associated Press
PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 4.— Bands of strikers threatened violence today as operators attempted to resume service on Philadelphia transportation system. The Army, which seized the system last night, said it was not prepared to allow persons with apparent sympathies to operate the system.
The Army will provide on the buses, trolleys, and subways.
Maj. Gen. Philip Hays, commanding general of the third service command, said after the seizure of the system and the trolleys on one route had been made runs.

Hays took control on orders of President Roosevelt last night after the stoppage had stranded hundreds of thousands, curtailed the production and given rise to violence.

Even as the Army took over, new clashes between whites and Negroes with one shooting—were reported.

Hays said would-be rioters were kept from work "by threats made by persons who are apparently more interested in aiding the axis than in seeing to it that essential transportation is provided for Philadelphia's war-workers."

Challenges Obstruction
"Delay in restoring full operation is measured in the blood of American soldiers overseas," he said. "Those who obstruct our operation have that blood on their hands."

He promised full legal penalties for anyone who interferes with service and said "it is obvious that the overwhelming majority of transportation employees are conscious of the supreme obligation they have to our fighting men."

Only 12 elevated trains, seven subway trains and the trolleys on one route had operated up to 8
a. m. three hours after the Army's seizure of the system from President Roosevelt seizing the lines in the face of the government.

Clashes between whites and Negroes with one shooting—broke out again during the early morning. The stoppage began in protest against the transportation company's upgrading of Negroes to operating jobs.

Five truckloads of strikers stopped a Philadelphia transportation company emergency repair wagon in a residential street and warned the crew to answer to calls.

Strikers Travel in Bands After seven trains had pulled out of the 68th street elevated terminal, a band of strikers appeared on the platform and attempted to dissuade other crews from making their runs. Only one crew walked out again.

Eleven windows were smashed during the night in a flareup of race disorder which already had seen 100 persons to hospitals.

At 8:30 a. m. heavy details of police were dispatched to the streets.

1200 U. S. BOMBERS
ATTACK GERMANY

By The Associated Press
LONDON, Aug. 4.—More than 1,200 U. S. heavy bombers attacked a variety of targets in Germany today, including the Pewaukee experimental station where the enemy develops flying bombs and rockets.

About 1,000 fighters accompanied the bombers, making the armada 2,200 strong.

Other targets included:
—A major parts plant and airfield at Kiel, 47 miles northwest of Berlin.

Sgt. Frank R. Mann Jr. One of 5 Killed in Bomber Crash

Marion Air Corps Project Engineer and Four Officers Meet Death in Test Flight Near Wright Field.

Sgt. Frank R. Mann Jr., 23, son of Dr. and Mrs. Frank R. Mann of Marion, was one of five airmen killed in the crash of a twin-engine bomber near Wright Field yesterday at 3:25 p. m.

The plane had been on a test flight and was preparing to land at the field when motor trouble developed at a low altitude causing it to crash and burn. Both motors were smashed off and part of the wreckage burned. Sgt. Mann's body was not reached by the flames.

Sgt. Mann was a "Pearl Harbor Day" anniversary enlistee, having been inducted for military service on the first anniversary of the day the Japs attacked Pearl Harbor.

Yesterday was to have marked another milestone in his military career since that time, but death cheated him from learning that a promotion had been officially ordered. While he was in the air, orders were posted at Wright Field promoting him from corporal to the rank of sergeant.

Sgt. Mann, equipped for his specialized work by a degree in mechanical engineering and further army training, was a project engineer at the power plant laboratory at Wright Field, and in connection with his work with the engines that power the Army Air Forces' fighting craft, he frequently was called upon to accompany pilots making test flights.

It was on such a mission that he was assigned yesterday, accompanying four lieutenants in a test flight of a twin-engine medium bomber. The flight apparently had gone well and the pilot, Lieut.
Roland DeFrene, 23, of Dayton, was bringing the ship back to Wright Field when motor trouble apparently developed.

Mrs. J. C. Fogwell, one of the witnesses of the crash said she noticed the plane falter as engine trouble developed, saw it swing low over her farmhouse and then crash and burst in flames. Her daughter, in an upstairs room, also saw the plane and said she felt certain for a moment that it would crash into the Fogwell house, but it cleared the house and crashed into a field of an adjoining farm.

The Fogwells notified Wright Field immediately, and later officials at the field notified Dr.
Mann, Sgt. Mann's father here.
He and Mrs. Mann and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. William Kimball of 180 Merchant avenue, went to Dayton last night. They were at the home of Sgt. Mann's widow, Mrs.
Marion Setfield, at 930 Superior avenue in Dayton.

Scene of Crash
The plane crashed on the Robert Wolfe farm on the Yellow Springs road northeast of Dayton.
Smoke from the wreckage could be seen from a distance of several miles.

Others in the crashed plane, all killed in addition to Sgt. Mann and Lieut. DeFrene, the pilot, were identified as Lieut. Stanley John Penna, 23, of Dayton; Lieut.
John Stewart, 24, co-pilot, of Indianapolis; Lieut. William St. Crawford, 23, of Dallas, Tex.
All were from Wright Field.

Sgt. Mann enlisted in the air corps on Dec. 7, 1942, the anniversary of Pearl Harbor day and continued his schooling at Ohio Northern University at Ada where he was graduated with a bachelor of science degree in mechanical engineering in February of 1943.
He was a member of Sigma Phi fraternity and while at the university was active in the Onessa society, a speech society in engineering, and at one time headed that society.

Made Project Engineer
He took first military training at Boca Raton, Fla., and a year ago went to Wright Field to become a project engineer at the power plant laboratory.

Last Oct. 1, he and Miss Marian Setfield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Setfield of Rochester, O., were married at the former Mann home on South Vine street. Mrs. Mann, a graduate of

Cpl. John G. Snyder, 25, husband of Mrs. Glenna H. Snyder, of Waldo, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Grover C. Snyder of near Waldo, was reported missing in action on June 29, in the European war area, a telegram from the war department notified his wife yesterday afternoon.

Entering the armed forces in December, 1942, Cpl. Snyder, a technician 5th grade, has been overseas since February this year, serving with an observational battalion of the Army field artillery.
His letter received by the family dated June 23 from England said he was getting ready to see more of the world.

A graduate of the Waldo High school, Cpl. Snyder attended Ohio Northern university and before entering service was employed with the Henley Engineering Service Co. at Prospect. He received his training at Camp Forrest, Tenn. and Camp Gordon, Ga.

Corporal and Mrs. Snyder were married in May 1942 at Waldo.
Mrs. Snyder, who was Miss Glenna Conkle of Waldo, is employed with the Huber Manufacturing Co.

Cpl. Snyder's brother, George William Snyder, who was graduated from Ohio State university this year, is enrolled in the ASIP course at the university.

Marion Soldier
Wounded in France
Pfc. Paul S. McElowney, 26, was wounded in action on July 16 in France according to word received by his mother, Mrs. Hazel M. Houser to 592 North State street. The word came with the Purple Heart award, received by Pfc. McElowney and sent to Mrs.
Houser. Neither she nor his wife, Mrs. Ruth McElowney, who now makes her home in Asbury Park, N. J., had received any previous word concerning Pfc. McElowney being wounded.

Mrs. Houser received three letters from her son on July 17. They had been written on July 4 and 5, and spoke of action he had seen in France for which he received the Oak Leaf Cluster.

Pfc. McElowney attended Central Junior High school and was a member of Co. D in Marion for six years. He was employed by the Safety Cab Co. prior to enlisting in the service on July 16, 1942. He has served overseas since January, 1943 and has seen action in Africa and Sicily. In December, 1943, he was sent to England where he served as an instructor

REDS SMASH
NAZI VISTULA
RIVER DEFENSE

Surging Russians Advance To Within 90 Miles of German Silesia.

By The Associated Press
MOSCOW, Aug. 4.—Russian hosts which smashed the German Vistula river line advanced swiftly today to within 91 miles of German Silesia while other army groups in the north shelled towns and villages inside East Prussia from positions three miles from the frontier.

Russian forces moved within 58 miles of Krakow, fifth city of old Poland, over difficult hill country. In this area west of Vistula, some 110 miles below beleaguered Warsaw, the Russians were within 30 miles of Tarnow and 28 of Kielce (pop. 58,200), the last large Nazi bastion before Krakow.

Official sources were silent on the siege of Warsaw, where Marshal Konstantin Rokossovsky's army group was pulled up just east of the Polish capital. In the Baltic states, Russian tanks were patrolling the shores of the Gulf of Riga 25 miles west of Riga and Pravda said they were striking both east toward that capital of 393,000 and also west toward Liepaja, Latvia's second city and a west coast seaport.

Nazis Call Reserves
All along the 1,000-mile front from the Baltic to the Carpathians, the Germans were reported rolling up reserves, particularly in the Warsaw and Vistula breach area. Concentrations of the German air force appeared in a desperate attempt to check Russian jumps.

Belief in Moscow quarters was that the Vistula breakthrough might be the start of a serious German rout.

Russian planes as well as cannon strongly attacked East Prussian towns and lines of communication, despite poor flying weather. Russian vanguards were within 33 miles of the provincial capital of Konigsberg and 44 from Insterburg, where five railroads lead from iron foundries and machine shops.

German resistance stiffened appreciably near the Prussian border town of Eydtkuhnen. But along the Niemen river due east of Tilsit, Col. Ivan Cherniakhov-sky struck straight into the Germans and captured Lukse, 42 miles from that rail town. Some 200 towns were swept up in that area.

The midnight communiqué listed 6,400 Germans killed, raising Nazis losses in three days to above 30,000. (The Moscow radio said the Baltic states, where 20 to 30 divisions were reported by Prime Minister Churchill to be cut off;
"are becoming one enormous German graveyard.")

Reds Gain Five Miles
(The Berlin radio said the Russians had thrown new tank and infantry divisions into the Augustow area, eight miles from the southeast frontier of East Prussia, and gained nearly five miles.)

Marshal Konstantin K. Rokos-sovsky, while planning a big group of the enemy's divisions in the Warsaw siege zone, broke loose with his left flank 110 miles southeast of the Polish capital, and pushed a wedge more than 15 miles deep from the Vistula bridgehead at Sandomierz.

Red army infantrymen crossed the Vistula on pontoons and rafts, followed by tanks, the Moscow communiqué said. In the heavy fighting that followed, 3,000 Germans were killed and 500 captured.

The furious breakthrough sent the Germans reeling in flight from Staszow and Poland, 60 miles northeast of Krakow, front dispatches said.

The Russian stabbing ahead from Staszow were only 28 miles from the city.

Drouth May Cut Corn Yield in Marion County 35 Per Cent

Marion county will feel the effects of the drought along with other agricultural counties in the state, a survey made by The Associated Press and released in a dispatch today indicated. According to the survey, Ohio's corn and soybean harvest will fall millions of bushels below the 1943 yield and garden production will probably drop 50 per cent.

Marion county's corn production is expected to fall about 35 per cent below last year's yield, according to figures given by Arthur H. Smith, county farm agent. Mr. Smith said that rain which has fallen in parts of the county has changed an otherwise gloomy outlook and rain in other sections not yet relieved could help raise the percentage of the harvest if it comes soon. Marion county's 50,000 acres of corn are (Turn to DROUTH, Page 7)

Soybeans Hurt
Soybean harvest probably will fall about 45 per cent below normal, with 40,000 acres planted in this county. It is estimated that the yield will be about 15 bushels an acre. Varying yields from different sections make it difficult to place an exact figure on a normal yield, though a good harvest usually ranges from 25 to 30 bushels an acre.

Local gardens will also be hard hit, Mr. Smith said, as most garden crops need an extra amount of water.

While no effort was made in the survey to find damage to other crops, it was found that

BRITISH ON TO PARIS, YANKS ON TO ST. NAZAIRE.—In unchecked advances through German lines, Allied forces in France are relentlessly driving toward three objectives, namely: Paris, Brest and St. Nazaire. The drive to Paris is being made by the British while the fighting to cut off the Breton peninsula by taking Rennes and on to St. Nazaire is being done by Yanks.

JAPS FACING
TRAP IN GUAM

7,000 Face Death or Surrender, 40,000 More in Same Fate in New Guinea.

By The Associated Press
U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HEAD-QUARTERS, PEARL HARBOR, Aug. 4.—Two powerful traps to close off more than 7,000 Japanese on Guam's north plateau and some 40,000 more in the British New Guinea jungles, with only death or surrender awaiting them.

Already the Japanese death toll in those areas is upward of 26,000.

On Guam, where 7,893 enemy dead have been counted, American Marines and soldiers are pushing the desperately fighting Japanese toward the sea, with only eight miles to go.

In British New Guinea, where a Japanese army once 80,000 strong is caught between Australians at the Sepik river, on the east and Americans below Altape on the west, the starving and poorly supplied Nipponese are beating like waves on a rocky shore against the Americans.

Heavy Casualties
"Heavy casualties were inflicted," Gen. Douglas MacArthur said today, concerning late developments, "with an additional 602 enemy dead buried by our troops and the entire battle area littered with abandoned and uncounted enemy bodies."

The 802 made a total of 3,870 Japanese dead listed since the breakout attacks opened July 12.
When they began, MacArthur said an estimated 15,000 previously had perished due to "pri-

STEWART PROPOSES
STATE FUND PLAN

By The Associated Press
NEWARK, O., Aug. 4.—A program for "investing rather than spending" the state's surplus which he claimed would "benefit every citizen of the state" was proposed last night by James G.
Stewart, Republican candidate for governor.

The Cincinnati mayor told a Licking county Republican picnic crowd the surplus was expected to exceed $50,000,000 by the end of this year, and that he proposed:

1. Construction and repair of highways with emphasis on rural and arterial roads through the cities.

2. An educational program "to assure every boy and girl the opportunity to get the best foundation for life."

3. Coordination and cooperation of all departments now engaged in conservation work, and 4. Broadening the welfare program to include the care of some 6,000 mentally ill who, he said, "now roam our communities."

Congressman J. Harry Mc-Gregor of West Lafayette and Lt.
Gov. Paul M. Herbert also spoke.
Approximately 4,000 persons attended.

TRANSPORT PLANE CRASHES
By The Associated Press
BRUNING, Neb., Aug. 4.—A C-47 transport plane, ferrying 28 pilots from the Bruning, Neb., army air field to the army air base at Pierre, S. D., crashed last night near Napier, Neb., Col.
C. D. McAllister, base commander at Bruning, announced today.

Colonel McAllister said it is believed a majority of the 28 men aboard were killed.

Roosevelt Ignores States' Rights, Republicans Charge

By The Associated Press
ST. LOUIS, Aug. 4.—The 26 Republican governors, asserting they had achieved "unity of thought" with presidential Candidate Thomas E. Dewey, charged today that the asserted failure of President Roosevelt to exchange views with state executives had produced "costly misunderstandings" in the past.

Summing up two days of conferences on what Dewey has called "areas of friction" between the states and the federal government, the G.O.P. governors asserted it was their intention to work closely with Dewey if he becomes president.

Calling for post-war simplification and reduction of taxes, the governors' conference said in other conclusions that the state and national governments must create "clear-cut labor and industrial policies," must develop coordinated social welfare services and should work together in the use and control of war resources.

In their general conclusions the governors charged there had been "a constant grasping for power on the part of the federal government." They said that only through cooperation and "sympathetic understanding" could this nation's system of government be made to work.

Points Way To Results
"This can best be accomplished when all parts of the country are represented in the councils of the federal government," the report said, "and when by personal contact the President of the United States and the governors of the states achieve that unity of national purpose which transcends partisanship and strives unselfishly for the solution of their common problems."

"For the past ten years, entire regions of our country have been without representation in the cabinet or administrative agencies of the federal government. During that period the governors of the states have never been invited to exchange views with the President of the United States. Both of these conditions have produced costly misunderstandings and can and must be remedied."

With most of the governors returning to their homes, Dewey remained in St. Louis to confer with labor, business, political and other leaders before en-trailing tonight for Pawling, N. Y., where he will spend the week-end.

Detailed conclusions reached unanimously by the governors who also organized politically for the presidential campaign, included a recommendation for coordination of federal and state policies to eliminate "double taxation."

In this connection, the Republican executives said that while there must be economical control, there must be no indiscriminate slashing and cutting of governmental budgets.

Calling for an end to the "duplication" of federal and local governmental expenses, the report said executives must be on the alert to "see that public funds are not wasted and that the number of employees is no larger than is absolutely necessary."

Reorganization of the federal administration of welfare agencies was urged.

The report outlined a social welfare program in which the states and local communities would improve existing hospitalization, clinical treatment, visiting nurses and other health activities, with the work of existing agencies more closely integrated.

"There should be no political control of the profession of medicine," the report said.

The governors also called for an immediate drastic change in the spirit and methods of administration of existing labor laws.

The group endorsed federal regulation of wages, hours and child labor, saying the states should supplement these minimum standards in line with local conditions.

The governors repeated a Republican platform pledge in calling for "cooperation, coordination and understanding" between federal and state governments in the development of water resources.

Domestic Challenge
Final points in the policy pronouncement were issued in the wake of a meeting which found the Republican organization splitting for a fight and challenging

MOST OF BREST
PENINSULA CUT
OFF IN ADVANCE

Fighting Still Rages in Center of By-Passed City of Rennes.

By The Associated Press
SUPREME HEADQUARTERS
ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY
FORCES, Aug. 4.—Lt. Gen. Omar N. Bradley's dynamic team of army and infantry has driven close to St. Nazaire and practically completed the slicing off of the Breton peninsula, it was indicated tonight.

The dazzling pace of the Americans, driving across Brittany in more than half a dozen directions, was believed to have established them in a much greater area than the 45-mile wedge, 30 miles wide, which official communiques and latest war correspondents' reports showed.

The latest correspondents' dispatches said the doughboy tide, spreading 20 miles southward of the central communications hub of Rennes, were within 42 miles of St. Nazaire. The Nazi U-boat base which British commandos partly wrecked in March, 1942, using an old U. S. destroyer as a time bomb.

These reports showed they also were 43 miles from the Loire river city of Nantes, while 27 miles west of Rennes they were approaching Maunon, 108 miles from the French naval base of Brest.

The Germans were finding it hard to hold on even to the only stable stretch of the front, a 30-mile line below Caen.

Latest reports from that area said the Germans there, too, were in retreat, and that Lt. Gen. Gen.
Sir Miles C. Dempsey's Second British army was within an ace of grabbing the stronghold of Villers-Bocage.

Fall of St. Nazaire would open to the Americans the once great troop port through which many of the 2,000,000 American soldiers poured into France in 1917 and 1918.

Yet other forces advanced in rapid strides to within two miles of Eran, seven miles south of captured Dinan on the north side of Brittany, and jumped off to attack the German-held north coast city of St. Malo which had been bypassed in the strike to Dinan.

Fighting raged in Rennes along streets leading to the heart of the town, where an encircled but fanatic enemy garrison was holding out.

Americans Strike South
The Americans struck due south close to Bain-De-Bretagne, 17 miles south of Rennes and 43

Mr. Sears stressed the need for modernizing of main roads, the development of trunk lines within and through cities and expanding of secondary systems. He reported that plans are already made and on file for new roads and further development of the present highways. He said that Ohio manufactures more highway equipment than any other state.

Ohio Officer Sees Japs March To Death in Banzai on Saipan

(This story, distributed by The Associated Press, was written by Ed. J. J. Luce, formerly of the Tulsa Tribune, a Marine Corps public relations officer.)

SAIPAN, MARIANAS ISLANDS — (Delayed) — Marine Lt. Col. Lewis B. Rock, publisher of the Herald and Journal in Dayton, O., told today of sitting for two days at his observation post in the mountains of central Saipan and watching destruction of a fanatical Japanese banzai counter-attack which Admiral Nimitz said "came with sudden ferocity on a scale surpassing any previous assault of its kind in the central or western Pacific war."

Colonel Rock, an assistant operations officer for the Fourth Marine division, had an eye-witness view to every phase of the dramatic battle, an experience which has come to no other person in the bloody battle for possession of Saipan. The president of the Journal-Herald Publishing Co. gave this description of the fight:

"It was as if I were sitting in the press box at Yale bowl, with one goal line at Tanapag, and the other at Makunsha village. I watched our troops push forward to the enemy's goal line (Makunsha). I saw them stopped there and driven back to their own goal line at Tanapag. And I saw them recover and drive back to the enemy's goal line after the back of the attack had been broken."

Colonel Rock took up his post on the morning of July 6, and looking down at Tanapag, saw American troops moving up slowly, encountering only slight opposition. Our own artillery and mortars on their flank laid down accurate and apparently effective support as they slugged their way northward.

Wipe Out Small Pocket

Midway to their goal at Makunsha, American troops were held up by an enemy pocket in a small coconut grove, near the west coast of Saipan. Throughout the afternoon, they worked to annihilate Japanese in the area and, as dusk fell, had fought their way within sight of Makunsha.

Colonel Rock retired for the night. What he had seen on July 6 was normal and expected. Our troops still were on the march to Marpi point, extreme northern end of the island. It was a sight which could have been seen from the mountains at any time since our forces landed on Saipan, June 15.

At 4 a. m. he was awakened by a fierce artillery barrage. "I realized at once," Colonel Rock said, "that it was heavier than usual and could not possibly be our usual morning softening up. I looked down in the valley below me and from the Japanese lines, I could see thousands of red tracer bullets cutting the morning sky, all headed in our direction. From our lines, other thousands of tracers were pouring back into the enemy's lines. It was a strangely beautiful and fascinating sight."

Colonel Rock made his way to a higher vantage point and, as dawn broke, was eye-witness to one of the most fiction-like scenes ever seen in this war.

Within the Japanese lines, marching in orderly formation, were thousands of Japanese headed for the American defensive positions. At their head, carried by several Japanese soldiers, was a blood red naval battle flag, moving relentlessly toward our lines.

Unaware Banzai Coming

Within our own lines, Colonel Rock saw troops moving into position to meet the attack, some of them unaware that this was the long expected Banzai assault to die for the emperor. He saw the enemy's fanatical charge; he saw the Japanese, sometimes in perfect order, at times with utter disregard for their own safety, infiltrate the American flanking positions, and he saw our forces driven back by the impetus of the initial lunge.

American and Japanese trucks were ablaze as the battle moved toward noon. Our troops gave ground grudgingly; the Japanese pushed forward with mounting frenzy.

Back of the enemy's assault troops, Colonel Rock saw an "unbelievable spectacle."

"Following the first line troops, were the enemy's wounded," he related. "There were men with bandaged heads, men without arms, men on crutches, the great majority of them unarmed. They were tagging along, sometimes a mile or more behind the fighting troops, to participate in this last Banzai charge to have the privilege of dying for the emperor."

(Later, Colonel Rock related, it was found that the Japanese had slain more than 300 of their hopelessly wounded, who could not go along in the charge, thus leaving nothing behind. A field hospital with their bodies was found back of the Tanapag-Makunsha battle-ground.)

Ground Covered with Dead

The ground between Tanapag and Makunsha was covered by our own and Japanese dead. Our fire ate down the ranks of the attackers, but still they came on. This was no ordinary charge. This was Banzai.

Colonel Rock sat atop the hill and saw Japanese break through to capture a battery of American field artillery, killing and driving the gunners back into our own lines.

Along the western coast, he saw army troops, driven back by the relentless, fanatical enemy charge, pinned in small pockets along the shore. An hour later, he saw them forced into the sea. He saw them swim to reefs 500 yards offshore. He saw our planes swoop low to drop life rafts to the swimming soldiers; he saw landing craft head out from destroyers at sea to pick them off the reefs. And he saw a huge red stain slowly spread over the water as Japanese mortars and rifle fire picked off the swimming men.

By mid-afternoon, the Japanese had pushed almost to Tanapag. But the fury of their assault was spent. The attack bogged down.

Throughout the next day, Colonel Rock saw Marines from two regiments of the second division come down from the hills, almost at his feet, and clean out the area, killing thousands of Japanese as they moved through. By nightfall of July 7, he toured the area, and saw more dead Japanese soldiers than he had ever seen in so small an area.

Huge Flag Captured

Along the coastline, he saw the huge naval battle flag, which had led the advance, laid out on the grass to dry. It had been claimed as a battle trophy by the Marines who broke up the Banzai charge.

By dusk, July 7, the Japanese were back where they had started, at Makunsha village. Colonel Rock, sitting in the press box, had seen them driven back once

Roosevelt Has 4 Per Cent Lead Over Dewey in Massachusetts, Poll Shows

GEORGE GALLUP
American Institute of Public Opinion
WASHINGTON, N. J., Aug. 4.— Any Republican before the New Deal, Massachusetts may prove one of the strongholds for the Republicans this November.
In a survey, President Roosevelt is held to hold a lead over Thomas E. Dewey.

among the civilian voting population, with virtually the same strength, percentage-wise, that he had in 1940 when he ran against Wendell Willkie.
In sounding out political sentiment throughout the Bay State, field reporters talked to voters in areas scientifically selected to represent a cross-section of the state's voting population. The question:

"If the presidential election were being held today, how would you vote—for Dewey or for Roosevelt?"

The results:
FOR DEWEY 48% Political sentiment being thus closely divided, Massachusetts, with its 16 electoral votes, will undoubtedly receive a lot of attention from both parties during the next few months.

In contrast to many other states, the defection from President Roosevelt in Massachusetts has been small since 1940. This may be a reflection of the fact that Massachusetts voters have shown themselves strongly in favor of post-war cooperation, of which the President has been a leading exponent.

The extent of the Roosevelt defection in Massachusetts is shown in the following table comparing today's survey figures with the election figures of 1936 and 1940:

Percentage of Roosevelt Vote
1936	55%
1940	53
TODAY	52

The figures in today's survey represent interviewing during a period up to Monday of this week, and indicate sentiment only during this period. Periodic surveys will be made to measure trends between now and election time.

Roosevelt leads in nine of the fourteen states in which the Institute has reported political sentiment during the past month, with a total of 106 electoral votes.
Dewey, leading in the other five, has a total of 132 electoral votes.

cannot see the green dots and the left cannot see the red ones, because the respective glasses blot them out.

The person using only one eye to see, will think he sees three green dots, if he is using only his left eye. With the green glass over this eye he is seeing the two green dots and the white dot which appears as green. His right eye should be seeing the red dot at second base.

If the left eye is the lazy, unseeing one, then the looker will see two red dots, the red second base, and the white home plate, which appears red through the red glass. The lazy left behind the green glass should be seeing two green dots, first and third bases, if it were on the job.

for needed war production. For enforcement, he empowered the commission to withhold materials, equipment, power or transportation.

Increased use of prisoners of war in the making of war goods other than munitions, weapons, explosives.

Use of some unskilled foreign labor for a limited period where it is impossible to obtain adequate local workers.

Further limitation on the reconversion of civilian production, scheduled to be authorized by the War Relocation Authority on Aug. 15, by giving the war materials commission veto powers.

The WRC local representative will be required to certify that labor for civilian goods will not interfere with local and inter-regional retraining efforts.

No Time to Quit
"We have the enemy on the ropes," he is quoted as saying. "We are winning." Byrnes asserted in a statement accompanying the directive. "This is no time to take a holiday and give him time to recover. It is time to finish the job. We cannot let down our men in the armed services."

Simultaneously, Byrnes told a news conference the war department is expanding the use of war prisoners, not as weapons and explosives, but on other essential military supplies where their use will free American workers for the vital weapons program.

LIMA EX-CONVICT WINS COURT TEST

CHICAGO, Aug. 4—Ed Herling, 54, of Lima, Ohio, yesterday became the third ex-convict in the history of the U. S. district court here to gain his freedom on a writ of habeas corpus.

Federal Judge Elwyn R. Shaw granted Herling his freedom after declaring state officials "had no right to keep a convict on a writ to jerk him back when they see fit." The Illinois parole board had sought his return to serve 10 years at Joliet prison.

Herling's attorney, William Scott Stewart, said Herling was wanted to finish serving a one to 20-year sentence for burglary imposed June 15, 1914, although he received a banishment parole in 1922, Stewart said.

After violating his parole, Herling was sentenced to 10 years in the Indiana penitentiary July 11, 1924, on a charge of assault to commit robbery. He served the full term, and was re-arrested in Columbus, O., in 1935 for robbery, and was sentenced to serve eight years in prison.

GERMANY REPORTS ARMY PURGE PLAN

LONDON, Aug. 4—The German radio said tonight that the army had requested Hitler to carry out a purge in the army to cleanse it of the July 20 mutiny, and that Hitler had approved.

"A court of honor is to inquire into the attitude of the generals," the DNB dispatch said, "the function will be to investigate who had taken part in the plot (the July 20 attempted assassination of Hitler) and oust those who participated."

Among those on the court of inquiry, the official news agency listed Marshal von Rundstedt, deposed commander in France and frequently reputed a victim of the purge, Marshal Wilhelm Keitel, chief of the high command, also was named for the court.

The DNB announcement said one field marshal and four generals were expelled from the army at the first sitting of the court today.
